⌚ THROWBACK ⌚

Did you know back in February 2001, eciConstruction performed renovations on the Dauphin County Administration Building?

Dauphin County Administration Building

The General Construction department began renovations to the new Dauphin County Administration Building in February 2001.

An extremely fast-paced construction schedule allowed the customer to occupy the fifth floor data center, a self-contained computer operations center, in July 2001. ECI personnel, subcontractors, and other prime contractors worked their way from the top down to the bottom of the building. After the fifth floor renovations were complete, the fourth floor Commissioners Suites, with built-in case-work, floor to ceiling wood-grained formica paneling, were completed next. Private restrooms, and support staff offices followed shortly after.

A highlight of the fourth floor is the circular hearing room with paneling from the floor to ceiling.

The first floor lobby is a show-piece, with Italian flooring, wood paneling, and a grand staircase open to the second floor. A circular, granite topped reception desk greets visitors where they can be directed to any of the departments on the first floor.

The exterior will have three fountains and a 12' x 12' water etched map of Dauphin County in limestone.

John Constance, Dave Koch, and Ted Barmont were the Superintendents for this project. Chuck Leach is the Project Manager and Lou Marchi, Jr. was the Estimator.

20TH ANNUAL RUTTER'S CHILDREN'S CHARITIES GOLF OUTING

eciConstruction was a Diamond Sponsor for the 20th annual Rutter's Children's Charities Golf Outing at the Country Club of York. All sponsorship donations benefit the Rutter's Children's Charities, which reached over $1,000,000 of charitable giving in 2021 and over $10,000,000 total since 2003.

At the event Billy Eichelberger, Scott Eichelberger, and Mark Yinger were paired with Rutter's Site Development Project Engineer, Eric Thomas P.E.

"Since 2003, Rutter's has donated over $10,000,000 to organizations dedicated to comforting, educating, inspiring, and making a positive impact on the children in the communities we serve.

We invest in future generations by giving children the opportunity to learn and grow with the hope that someday they will give back and help others. We believe that our donations have improved the lives of countless children and their families across the region."

JAWNS ON FIRE

The owner of Jaws on Fire (a Harrisburg retailer) was looking for a contractor that could assist with a project that needed to move quickly. A Rite Aid construction manager referred the Jaws on Fire owner to eciService, and work then started on the project.

eciService constructed three walls with doors and frames to create a secure storeroom for merchandise, including sneakers in the $400 price range. eciService also performed electrical and data work on the retail store. The previous tenant had some electrical work done on the emergency exit lights, which made the systems inoperable, thus out of code. eciService then coordinated the proper repairs with the building's landlord. Last, but not least, eciService assisted with getting their final inspection so they would have a certificate of occupancy for their grand opening.

The project was completed in less than 3 weeks, with the help of John Wolf and Rick Smith from eciConstruction and Mark Kennedy, Matt Yohn, Stanton Baker, Dennis Hufnagle, and Jeremiah Keck from eciService. Due to the quick turnaround of the project, the owner of Jaws on Fire requested that eciService provide an annual periodic contract for their HVAC equipment.

MECHANICSBURG SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL

eciConstruction has been working on Mechanicsburg Senior High School. The project includes a single-story administration addition to the front of the school. This addition includes a nurse office, guidance office, staff offices, as well as a new main entrance. Toward the back of the high school, eciConstruction has been building a new two-story classroom addition that includes a fitness center, science classrooms, student classrooms, and a small café.

The school gymnasium is also receiving a renovation, which will include new flooring, gym equipment, and bleachers. The school's previous administration office will be remodeled as well and turned into restrooms, storage rooms, and a corridor.

Additionally, eciConstruction has been providing site work improvements, including working on their parking lots, updating stormwater utilities, updating water line utilities, and adding new concrete plaza entrances.
